Trends:

The rest of the survey is in essay form. From those comments, several key trends emerge:

1. Interaction with and ability to work alongside partner family members receives high praise
2. The organization, clear instruction and positive atmosphere on the job site were often cited
3. Meeting new community members and the "team building" aspect for businesses frequently mentioned
4. The vast majority of volunteers required either no recognition or feels our thank you letter and our meal provisions are thanks enough. One volunteer said "God knows!"
